

LEVEL 3 MULTI-CHANNEL MARKETING APPRENTICESHIP: BY INDUSTRY, FOR INDUSTRY

creative process

OVERVIEW

Creative Process supports employers to develop the digital skills and capabilities they need for the 21st Century. We do this via the digital apprenticeship that we launched with the government at Apples UK HQ in London and at icrossing (Hearst Corporation) in Brighton. We deliver up skilling and training to your existing workforce or help you to attract, select and recruit young talent into your business.

The programme is the level 3 standard for Multi-channel Marketing and lasts for 15 months. The diploma qualification is awarded by the Chartered Institute for IT.

Multi-channel Marketer job roles include; Assistant/Executive/Co-ordinator support, Campaign Executive, Analytics Executive, Business Administrator, SEO Executive, Analytics Executive and Marketing Support.

Enroll an existing member of your team or use our free recruitment service for new hires that is no obligation and no cost.

Five easy steps to hire an apprentice:

- 1) Register your interest or send us your job description detailing skills, qualities and salary.
- 2) We advertise your role, meet and assess all candidates, sending you the best to interview.
- 3) You decide whom you want to appoint (there's no obligation) and agree a start date.
- 4) We enroll and induct your apprentice onto our training programme.
- 5) We take care of all the paperwork so you can focus on getting the best from your new apprentice and for your business.

TRAINING

A Multi-Channel Marketer will learn how to effectively manage and execute marketing strategies across various channels.

It suits those who want to develop skills in areas like content creation, campaign management, and data analysis. The programme is well-suited for graduates, marketing and comms assistants, marketing administrators, social media assistants and those looking to enhance their marketing expertise.

Skills and knowledge your apprentice will master as part of the programme:

TECHNICAL

UNDERSTANDING

Marketing Strategies: Learning to develop and implement effective multi-channel marketing strategies to promote products or services.

Audience Segmentation: Understanding how to identify and target specific audience segments through various marketing channels.

Content Creation: Developing skills in creating compelling and engaging content across different platforms to capture audience attention.

Analytics and Insights: Utilizing analytics tools to measure and analyse marketing campaign performance, extracting meaningful insights for optimization.

Digital Marketing Channels: Becoming proficient in utilizing various digital channels, such as social media, email marketing, and online advertising.

Brand Management: Learning to maintain and enhance brand identity across different marketing channels.

In addition to developing technical understanding and expertise in multi-channel marketing, the apprenticeship programme puts a strong focus on the employees ability to demonstrate the core professional skills, attitudes and essential behaviours that are highly valued in the work place. These can be split into four broad categories:

- Logic, problem solving and analysis
- Initiative, autonomy and responsibility
- Organisation, professionalism, and productivity
- Communication, collaboration and adaptability

Professional recognition:

This apprenticeship is recognised for entry on to the Register of IT Technicians and those completing their apprenticeship are eligible to apply for registration. Completion of the apprenticeship would also allow access to join as an Affiliate (Professional) member of the CIM (Chartered Institute of Marketing) and/or Associate membership of BCS (The Chartered Institute for IT).

EMPLOYER TESTIMONIALS

Warner Brothers

'We've just hired a production apprentice - the recruitment support has been absolutely amazing - the process was the least painful recruitment drive I have participated in for a while!' Jackie Davis, Head of Talent. Warner Bros (formerly Ricochet, Brighton).

WARNER BROS.

Gene

'Recruitment is one of the biggest challenges our industry is facing. The industry moves very quickly, and a lot of new ideas come from young people. We wanted to train those young people in keeping with our company values and philosophy. Our Creative Process apprenticeships have been a great return on investment' Matt Parkinson, CEO, Gene (Brighton Web Developer Agency).

iCrossing

'iCrossing, our City, the region and the wider creative industry rely on young, motivated, digitally savvy people wanting to do great things, make a difference and change the world. Technology is touching and changing the way we do business, entertain ourselves, communicate and more and I expect to see the innovators of tomorrow emerge from the Digital Apprenticeship scheme today and iCrossing are happy to support it and extend our best wishes to the team behind it' Paul Doleman, CEO, iCrossing.
