

Creative Process Digital Complaints Policy

Statement

This policy and procedures aim to give a clear process for dealing with complaints about the work of Creative Process Digital. We wish to use this process to promote good practice and respond effectively to the issues raised.

It is the aim to have few or no complaints, but where they arise to ensure they are resolved promptly and fairly.

Creative Process Digital will seek to learn from the complaints raised, making changes to procedures and practices if necessary.

Who might use this Policy?

This policy covers all complaints made by learners, employers, parents/carers and members of the general public.

The policy does not cover issues relating to individual employment or contractual issues as these are the subject of separate procedures such as the Grievance Policy.

Creative Process Digital reserves the right to pursue complaints that are considered vexatious, malicious or where complaints impede investigations by failing to appropriately engage with the complaint handling process.

How to make a complaint

If you feel that Creative Process Digital has let you down in any way, please let us know. It is important to us that we understand what has gone wrong and how we can put it right.

Creative Process Digital aims to resolve all complaints as swiftly as possible. Our hope is that your complaint or dissatisfaction can be resolved directly between the complainant and Creative Process Digital in respect of the issue or person about who the complaint is being made (i.e. through Stage 1 below, conciliation). If this is not possible, through conciliation, or if your complaint is serious or if you remain dissatisfied following the outcome of the Stage 1 process, it will be dealt with under Stage 2 below.

Creative Process Digital will not normally deal with a new complain if it is more than six months old or in the case of a learner complain, more than three months after the learner has left.

If you are a learner and need help, support or advice in making a complaint please contact your Tutor or Assessor.

Creative Process Digital will normally seek the consent of the complainant before his or her identity is disclosed. If a complainant asks for their identity to be kept confidential, Creative Process Digital will take all reasonable steps to do so. However, it may be impossible to progress a complaint effectively unless the identity of the complainant is known. If, however, disclosure is needed, Creative Process Digital will normally ask the complainant for this consent but can make a judgement to release this information if appropriate. Criminal, health and legal issues and exemptions under the Data Protection Act.

Stage 1: Conciliation (Informal Stage)

Creative Process Digital will normally aim to resolve your complaint within 14 calendar days of receiving the complaint.

How to Make a Complaint

You should write your complaint in an email or by letter to your Tutor, Assessor, as soon as possible and normally within a week of the issue emerging.

You will receive an acknowledgement that your complaint is being dealt with within 7 calendar days by email. You will also receive a copy of the complaints policy with the email together with an explanation of how Creative Process Digital intends to resolve the complaint.

We will discuss your complaint with you and will give you a response in writing in an attempt to resolve your issue.

If you remain dissatisfied with the resolution of your complaint or with the outcome of discussions at this informal stage and feel your complaint has not been resolved, you should contact the CEO in writing within 14 calendar days of receiving the outcome of your complaint.

Stage 2: Formal Complaint

How to Make a Complaint

If you feel that your complaint is serious or you remain dissatisfied with a Stage 1 outcome, you may wish to contact the CEO immediately (without following Stage 1 procedures) by telephone, email or in writing.

The CEO(or his delegate) will establish if your complaint or dissatisfaction has been considered effectively under Stage 1 and will decide whether or not it should be dealt with by an investigation conducted by a Manager or by conciliation if this stage has been by-passed.

The CEO (or his delegate) will acknowledge your complaint in writing within 7 calendar days of receiving the complaint and enclose a copy of the Complaints Policy with the letter together with an explanation of how the college intends to resolve the complaint.

In case of a formal investigation the director will delegate responsibility for investigating a complaint to a Manager.

The Manager will conduct an investigation in accordance with this policy and will give a copy of any written complaint to the member of staff of person against whom the complaint has been made providing consent has been given under the terms of Section 3, paragraph 5.

The CEO will normally communicate the results of the investigation in writing to you within 14 calendar days of receiving the complaint. If the investigation is likely to take longer than this, you will be informed in writing as soon as possible.

Once the procedures has been exhausted, complaints may be taken to the Education Skills Funding Agency.

This policy will be kept up to date, will be reviewed at least annually and is signed by Creative Process Digital's CEO.
